FCD To Consider Area Requests In Saturday Meeting

Lamar Johnson Will Summarize Flood Emergency In Glades

Recommendations for research and construction in various areas will be presented to the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District Commissioners during meeting at 9 a.m. Saturday at the Commodity Bldg. according to W. T. Wallis, secretary-chief engineer.

Lamar Johnson, head of the engineering department, will summarize the flood emergency which resulted from record rainfall from Sept. 29 to Oct. 3 and will make recommendations for more quickly alerting responsible agencies before possible flood emergencies and for improvements in flood control operations.

The requests for district research and works constructions range from improvements in construction of channels to establishment of conservation areas. They reflect an increasing general consciousness of need for adequate water programs to meet emergencies, especially the domestic water supply, Mr. Wallis said.

Prominent on the agenda of requests and recommendations to be studied is the resolution adopted by the commissioners Oct. 10 requesting the FCD "construct and erect concrete retaining walls on each side of the Hillsboro Canal and the Hillsboro Canal in the interest of the public welfare, safety and health."

Other considerations will include:

Resolution adopted Oct. 22 by the FCD Board of Commissioners asking the FCD to "do everything possible to assure construction" of the Lake Okeechobee Canal.

River will be built primarily by others, and the Loxahatchee Marsh and Jupiter

"I was the first to lead an attack," Cpl. Harper says. "I knew the day before I was going to get hit and told some of the boys about it. They said they had the same feeling, so I was not surprised when it happened to me. I am not sure if anyone could stand where six of us were without getting hit. None of us lagged back very long, though. We are not to let anyone get the last word."

In another letter he writes: "I am here in the hospital now. When I first came over I was a little worried but it didn't last but a few days. I found, by seeing others die, that I was not having any trouble."

Writing from the Japanese hospital in Japan to his mother, Mrs. G. C. Harper, he says, "This is the best place I have been in yet."

Texans Harvest First Successful Glades Rice Crop

Second Trial Success After First Commercial Crop Failure

Two Texans who didn't know what to do with their first successful commercial rice harvest in the state last Friday on 150 acres at Hillsboro Plantation.

J. Turner, Jr., and J. D. Johnson, who said they couldn't grow rice under water in the Everglades, but they did it any way and their proof is 120 acres of hardy crop. One section, a 30-acre plot, is not as healthy in the north part of the second planting.

Growing rice all their lives as their families did in Texas before the Civil War, the Texans left right on time to grow the crop here after their first planting, which was put in last March, proved a failure.

"It was time to plant," Turner explained, "so I came to Florida and experimented with growing rice in several sections of the state." Johnson, his partner, also claimed to have tried to grow rice in Florida.

"Neither of us were having much success so we decided to combine our efforts here in the Glades," Turner said.

They have a water crop and flooding is necessary to produce a clean, pretty grain. Without water the grain is chalky. For this reason, water is necessary to grow rice here in the Glades," Turner said.

If you have been thinking of beating the high cost of liquor by patronizing a purveyor of "moonshine"—take my advice brother. DON'T DO IT.

According to reports from officials of the Licensed Beverage Industries and the U. S. Alcohol and Tax Unit, there is a lot of poison liquor floating around, and during the past two weeks 40 people have died and a number of others have been stricken blind and had their health seriously damaged by drinking illegal liquor made with 20 per cent or more of rubbing alcohol.

Warnings were issued this past week by Admiral F. E. M. Whiting, USN (Ret.), resident

This pickup pinches pennies!

There are two simple reasons why you save money when you buy an International pickup truck.

First, you get lower operating and maintenance costs. You get a pickup truck that is engineered throughout to do more work for less money.

Second, you get longer truck life. Even the smallest International pickup truck has kept Internationals first in heavy-duty truck sales for 19 straight years.

You get these all-truck savings right along with features that no other pickup truck gives you. For example—the COM-FISSION CAR is "the" most advanced cab ever built on a truck road. The Silver Diamond engine is an outstanding development of the world's largest exclusive truck engine plant. Super-steering gives you maneuverability and ease of handling that make driving a pleasure.

But get all the facts for yourself. Come in and learn why International pickup trucks are the best truck value in pickups today.

to unsuspecting victims, particularly the beverage industries, and Fred C. Farrell, district superintendent for the Alcohol Tax Unit in Kentucky and Tennessee in an effort to prevent future less serious cases.

Farrell points out that an analysis of samples taken from three recent large seizures, showed over 20 per cent of the alcohol in the illegal liquors was isobutyl alcohol, a wood-alcohol-methanol mixture.

Questioned concerning the cause of the increased consumption of moonshine, Admiral Whiting stated that it is quite evident that excessive taxation placed on distilled spirits is the chief cause.

"We of the distilled spirits industry have fought for reasonable taxation for a long time prior since the repeal of prohibition laws. We have never objected to a reasonable tax, but Congress has taxed our product to the point where it is below the cost of manufacture. The price asked for legally distilled liquor and they turn to moonshine which is tax-free and offered at such a low price that they cannot resist. Not only does it cost the government less revenue but they are risking death or serious injury to themselves."

"At the present time," the Admiral continued, "a $3.75 box of blended whiskey selling in the average state carries a burden of $2.10, or more than half of the retail price."

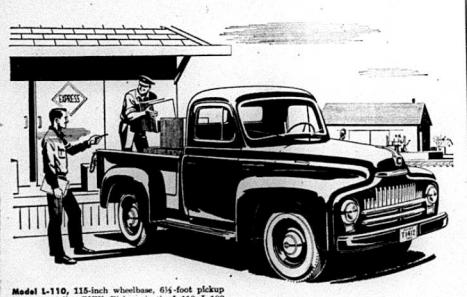

"On top of this additional tax was placed on legally manufactured whiskey November 1. This has caused the already exorbitant price to be increased from 40¢ to 50¢ a fifth."

This additional tax on distilled beverages gives the illegal distiller an added incentive to continue his escapades. His risk is not great, but his chance for sale and profit is that much more enhanced.

Prohibition proved that it was impossible to legislate morals or police ethics. They well-known to find no difficulty in securing all the good liquor they wanted while those in the lower income brackets satisfied their thirst by turning to moonshine and racketeers.

It is doubtful that the current increased tax will bring much more revenue to the government, but it will increase in illegal manufacture and a flood of untaxed liquor of questionable quality, some of which like that reported in Georgia will affect the life and health of those who drink it.

While another 5¢ a fifth won't bother the cocktail trade or Country Club folks, it will hit those in the low income brackets hard and are the ones who will patronize the moonshiner and risk their lives in their effort to "keep up with the Joneses."
